

From Pardubice to Ráby on in-line skates

Route description

From Pardubice, all the way to Kunětická Mountain: in-line skating full of adventure

This route begins at the Cihelna ropes park and swimming pool in Pardubice (where you can try your hand at rope obstacles, or enjoy some fun in the water), and continues along the Elbe River through the town of Brozany, all the way to the town of Ráby. The trail is wide enough to allow two people to skate comfortably side-by-side. It then makes a sharp left turn away from the Elbe River, taking you to the town of Brozany. If you would like to continue to Ráby, you will pass through the town and continue between fields on a newly-built section of the route, where the path gradually narrows. Care must be taken when crossing the Ráby - Kunětice road, where the trail concludes with a gentle descent to the road, ending with railing. From here, you can get all the way to Kunětická Mountain.
