

Ski resort Horní Domky - Rokytnice nad Jizerou

Resort description

The ski resort Horní Domky is located in the winter sports resort Rokytnice nad Jizerou in the Krkonoše mountains. It spreads out on the southern hillside of Lysá, 657-1315 m above the sea level. The well-liked resort of Rokytnice nad Jizerou consists of the Horní Domky, Studenov, Pařez and Modrá Hvězda centers. The ski resort Horní Domky is the biggest one of those.

The ski resort offers a wide range of skiing slopes of all levels of difficulty, a snowpark and training slopes. The slopes are 13,5 km long in total, they are well-arranged and wide. 9 slopes are blue-marked, so they are easier and suitable for beginners thanks to the small elevation difference.

There are five red-marked slopes and two black-marked slopes for advanced skiers and experienced athletes. The longest slopes is more than 2500m long. Transport of skiers is provided by 2 four-seat chair lifts and a few tow lifts. In the children snowpark there is a moving line/carpet at your disposal. A red-marked slope and a tow lift is a part of the local snowpark. All slopes are mechanically maintained on daily basis and covered with artificial snow. Visitors can use one of four free parking lots, a skibus, ski school, a testing center, a sports equipment rental shop with a service center, a baggage room etc. In the vicinity of the slopes there are numerous snack bars and restaurants.

Top-rated accommodation is available in many apartments or alpine style mountain cottages. The ski resort Horní Domky is one of the best winter sports centers in the Czech republic.
